

Sir Peter Blake Trust

Youth Environment Forum

Nominations have opened for 2010 !

Approximately forty-five young people from around the country will attend the forum in Wellington from Sunday 11 April to Thursday 15 April 2010.

Nominations are open to 16 to 18 year olds with a keen interest in the environment.

Delegates will spend a week participating in community projects, voicing their opinion on environmental issues and learning first hand about environmental management.

You'll meet other like-minded young environmentalists, talk with government ministers and engage in a variety of exciting environmental activities.

The forum is about developing your talent and encouraging the participants to continue on the journey of making a positive difference for the natural environment.

The Ministry for the Environment pays for return air fares and accommodation expenses while you are in Wellington.

To nominate:

Send your name and contact details along with up to 300 words describing your interest in environmental issues to :
